

Journal of General

It is not possible to give a full account of the various things which have happened since we arrived at the place, but I will mention a few of the most interesting.

The first thing which I noticed when I
stepped on shore
was the smell of
the sea, which was
very strong and pleasant. The water was very
clear and the
sky was blue
and bright. I saw many
fish and
other animals
in the water.
The people
were very
friendly and
kind. They showed me
many things
which were
very
interesting.
I saw many
houses and
other buildings.
The people
were very
poor and
lived in
small huts.
I saw many
children
who were
very
poor and hungry. I gave them
some food
and they
were very
thankful.
I saw many
other things
which were
very
interesting.
I saw many
houses and
other buildings.
The people
were very
poor and
lived in
small huts.
I saw many
children
who were
very
poor and hungry. I
gave them
some food
and they
were very
thankful.
I saw many
other things
which were
very
interesting.

