

Handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a title or header.

First main section of handwritten text, appearing to be a list or series of entries.

Handwritten marginal note on the right side, possibly a page number or reference.

Handwritten marginal note on the right side.

Second main section of handwritten text, featuring a large, decorative initial or flourish.

Handwritten marginal note on the right side.

Third main section of handwritten text, continuing the list or entries.

Vertical list of handwritten marginal notes on the right side, possibly a table of contents or index.

