

The handwriting is a dense, cursive script, likely a form of shorthand or a highly abbreviated cursive. The text is organized into several paragraphs, separated by horizontal lines. The ink is dark and the paper shows signs of age, including some staining and discoloration. The script is very compact, with many letters and words overlapping or written in a way that makes them difficult to decipher without a key.

