

Handwritten text at the top of the page, including a date "Julius 616" and a large, stylized initial letter.

Middle section of handwritten text, featuring several lines of cursive script with some larger initials and decorative flourishes.

Lower middle section of handwritten text, continuing the cursive script with varying line lengths and some marginalia.

Lower section of handwritten text, showing more dense cursive writing with some larger characters.

Bottom section of handwritten text, including a large, prominent initial and some concluding lines of cursive script.