

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or manuscript. The text is written in dark ink on aged, yellowed paper. It consists of approximately 25 lines of text, with some lines being significantly more legible than others. The script is dense and flowing, characteristic of early modern cursive. The text appears to be a formal document, possibly a contract or a record of a transaction, given the use of words like 'pro', 'per', and 'sub'. The document is signed at the bottom right with a large, stylized signature. There are some faint markings and bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.
