

Walter de Burgh

The first part of the book is a list of names and titles, some of which are written in large, decorative letters. The names are arranged in columns, and some are followed by smaller text, possibly indicating titles or ranks. The handwriting is a cursive script typical of the late medieval period.

The second part of the book contains several pages of text, some of which are written in large, decorative letters. The text is arranged in columns, and some lines are written in a smaller hand. The handwriting is a cursive script typical of the late medieval period.

The third part of the book contains several pages of text, some of which are
 written in large, decorative letters. The
 text is arranged in columns, and some
 lines are written in a smaller hand. The
 handwriting is a cursive script typical of
 the late medieval period.

The fourth part of the book contains several pages of text, some of which are
 written in large, decorative letters. The
 text is arranged in columns, and some
 lines are written in a smaller hand. The
 handwriting is a cursive script typical of
 the late medieval period.

The fifth part of the book contains several pages of text, some of which are
 written in large, decorative letters. The
 text is arranged in columns, and some
 lines are written in a smaller hand. The
 handwriting is a cursive script typical of
 the late medieval period.

