

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely a legal or administrative document. The text is written in a dense, cursive hand and is partially obscured by a large, irregular tear in the upper left corner of the parchment. The visible text includes various names, titles, and phrases, such as "Johannes de Vallibus" and "Johannes de..." in the first line. The document appears to be a record of a transaction or a legal agreement, possibly related to land or property, given the context of the names and the formal nature of the script. The parchment is aged and shows signs of wear, including discoloration and some staining.

