

En magis fros de ... (The text is a dense, handwritten legal or administrative document in a historical script, likely Spanish or Portuguese. It discusses various matters, including land, taxes, and legal proceedings. The text is written in a cursive hand and is somewhat difficult to decipher due to its age and the style of the script. It appears to be a formal document, possibly a contract or a court record, involving several parties and locations. The text is written in a single column and covers most of the page. There are some corrections and additions throughout the text, indicated by lines and small marks. The document ends with a signature and a date, which is 1482. The signature is written in a large, stylized hand and is followed by the date '1482'. The text is written in a dark ink on a light-colored paper. The overall appearance is that of an old, well-preserved manuscript.
