

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a legal document or contract. The text is written in a dark ink on aged paper and is characterized by large, decorative initial letters and frequent use of capital letters throughout the lines. The script is dense and fills most of the page. The text appears to be a formal agreement or a set of regulations, possibly related to land or inheritance, given the use of words like "heredando" (inheriting) and "proprio" (own). The document is written in a style typical of the late 15th or early 16th century.
