

Handwritten text in a historical script, likely a legal or administrative document. The text is written in a dense, cursive hand and is organized into several paragraphs. The script is characteristic of the late Middle Ages or early modern period. The document appears to be a formal record or a set of regulations, given the use of terms like 'patent' and 'licentia'. The text is written in a dark ink on aged, slightly yellowed paper. The handwriting is consistent throughout, with some variations in line height and spacing. The overall appearance is that of a well-preserved historical manuscript.
