

Faint, illegible handwriting in a cursive script, possibly from the 17th or 18th century. The text is mostly obscured by fading and bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

