

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin or Spanish, covering the majority of the page. The text is dense and appears to be a legal or administrative document. Some words are written in red ink (rubrication), such as "et" and "et". The script is a cursive hand with some decorative flourishes. There are some faint traces of text visible through the parchment from the reverse side of the page.

Marginal note on the left side of the page, written in a smaller hand than the main text. It appears to be a reference or a comment related to the main text.
