

Yo yo dono... (The text is a dense, handwritten document in a medieval script, likely a legal or administrative record. It contains numerous names, titles, and references to land and property. The text is written in a cursive hand with some ink bleed-through from the reverse side. The document appears to be a grant or a record of a transaction involving land and possibly a church or noble institution. The text is difficult to decipher due to the cursive and the age of the document.)
