

Faint, illegible handwritten text on a heavily stained and damaged strip of aged paper. The text is mirrored across the strip, suggesting it was once a single sheet of paper that was folded or pasted onto itself. The ink is dark but mostly obscured by the brown stains and physical damage to the paper.

