

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical document or letter. The text is dense and fills most of the page. It begins with a large initial 'L' and contains numerous words and phrases, some of which are difficult to decipher due to the cursive style. The text appears to be a formal communication, possibly a decree or a letter of appointment, given the use of terms like 'dominus' and 'magister'. There are several lines of text, with some lines starting with 'L' or 'D'. The handwriting is consistent throughout, suggesting a single scribe. The paper shows signs of age, including some staining and wear.

