

[The page contains dense, handwritten text in a cursive script, likely from a 16th-century manuscript. The text is written in dark ink on aged, slightly discolored paper. There are several large, decorative initial letters, including a prominent 'D' at the top left and a 'C' further down. The handwriting is fluid and characteristic of the period. The text appears to be a legal or administrative document, possibly a contract or a record of a transaction, given the use of terms like 'obpo' and 'fuerit'. The page is numbered '88' in the top right corner.]
