

Handwritten text at the top of the page, appearing to be a list or account of items, possibly including quantities and descriptions.

Main body of handwritten text, consisting of several lines of entries, possibly a ledger or inventory list, with some lines underlined.

