

Handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a title or header, including the word "Liber" and "de" followed by illegible characters.

Large handwritten signature or name, possibly "Franciscus" or similar, written in a highly stylized cursive script.

Main body of handwritten text, consisting of several columns of dense, cursive script that is largely illegible due to fading and bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

