

Handwritten text at the top of the page, including the word "targa" on the left and "granda" on the right. The script is dense and cursive.

Section of text starting with "Librami" on the left. The handwriting is consistent with the rest of the page.

Middle section of text with several lines of dense script. Some words are partially obscured by horizontal lines.

Section of text starting with "puz" on the left. The script continues with various characters and symbols.

Section of text starting with "Eandis" on the left. The handwriting is very cursive and difficult to decipher.

Bottom section of text, including the word "labes" on the left. The text is highly stylized and appears to be a form of shorthand or a specific dialect.

