

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a medieval manuscript. The text is dense and spans the top half of the page. It appears to be a list or a series of entries, possibly related to a legal or administrative document. The script is highly stylized and difficult to decipher without specialized knowledge of the language and dialect.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, continuing from the top section. This section contains several lines of text, some of which are crossed out with horizontal lines. The text is written in a dense, cursive hand, characteristic of the late Middle Ages. The content is largely illegible due to the script and the condition of the manuscript. There are some larger, more prominent words or phrases that stand out, but they are difficult to identify with certainty. The text appears to be a continuation of the list or entries from the top section.
