

St. James

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or a page from a manuscript. The text is written in a dark ink and is somewhat faded and difficult to read. It appears to be a formal document, possibly a letter of introduction or a record of a transaction. The text is organized into several paragraphs, with some lines being underlined. The handwriting is elegant and characteristic of the 17th or 18th century.

Handwritten text at the bottom of the page, including a signature and a date. The signature is written in a cursive script and is followed by a date. The text is somewhat faded and difficult to read, but it appears to be a formal document, possibly a letter of introduction or a record of a transaction. The handwriting is elegant and characteristic of the 17th or 18th century.

