

and the author's name is written in the top right corner of the page. The text is handwritten in black ink on aged paper.

The text discusses the author's desire to write a book on the history of the city of Madras, which he has been collecting information for over ten years. He expresses his intent to include details from various sources, such as old manuscripts, historical documents, and personal interviews. He also mentions the challenges of finding reliable sources and the need to verify information from multiple sources. The author concludes by stating that he hopes to complete the book within the next few years and to make it available to the public.

藏書

卷之三

... a strong wind.