

[The page contains dense handwritten text in Old English script, likely from a manuscript such as Beowulf. The text is written in a cursive hand with many ligatures and some corrections or additions in later hands. It appears to be a continuation of a narrative, possibly describing a battle or a journey.]

