

300 82
Linnæus carolinus

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is mirrored and difficult to decipher but appears to contain botanical or scientific descriptions.

Handwritten text, possibly a signature or a date, located below the main body of bleed-through text.

Large, stylized handwritten signature or name, possibly "Linnæus", written in a cursive script. Below the signature, there is some faint, illegible text.

