

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a legal or official document, covering the majority of the page. The text is dense and difficult to decipher due to the cursive style.

Handwritten notes in the top left corner, including the words 'rem' and 'p. 302' written vertically.

Large handwritten signature or name at the bottom of the page, possibly 'Dondegado' or similar, with a decorative flourish.

