

Handwritten title or header at the top of the page, possibly in a Gothic or similar medieval script.

Main body of handwritten text, appearing to be a list or a series of entries in a medieval script, possibly Latin or a Romance language. The text is dense and occupies most of the page.

