para efectos
de acuerdo con
los datos relevantes
y en los límites

On the far left edge, there is a vertical strip of paper with some text on it, which appears to be part of the original document. The strip contains the following text:

At the very bottom left, there is a small, faint mark that looks like a stylized letter 'P'.
