

Handwritten text at the top of the page, possibly a title or header, written in a cursive script.

Handwritten title or section header in the center of the page.

Main body of handwritten text, appearing as a legal document or record, written in a cursive script.

