

del dicho Hodi presento seyendo de beca... [The text is a dense, handwritten legal document in Spanish, likely a contract or a court record. It contains numerous names, titles, and clauses, though the handwriting is difficult to decipher in many places. It appears to be a formal agreement or a legal proceeding from the late 15th or early 16th century.]

de lo mismo

Accordado de un... [This section contains a second, shorter handwritten document or a continuation of the first. It begins with 'Accordado de un...' and continues with several lines of text. Like the first section, it is written in a cursive hand and contains legal or administrative content.]