

Ademus alios potestos eis deinde uno de los bens que se ha de darlos que se ha de darlos y que los regalos que se han de darlos

Ms. A. 1. 1. fol. 10 verso

The following is a copy of the original manuscript of the poem, showing the variations in spelling and punctuation that occurred during its transmission through different hands.

the first time I have seen it. It is a very handsome specimen, and I hope you will like it.
I am sending you a small box containing a few dried roots of the plant, which you will find very interesting.
