

1775

1775

1775

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is mirrored and difficult to decipher but appears to contain several lines of cursive script.

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is mirrored and difficult to decipher but appears to contain several lines of cursive script.

Handwritten signature or initials, possibly "M. J. J.", written in a cursive hand.

Handwritten text at the bottom right corner, possibly a date or a small note.