

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin or a related language. The text is written in a dense, cursive hand and is heavily obscured by significant damage, including large white tears and missing sections of paper, particularly on the left side. The visible fragments of text are difficult to decipher but appear to contain religious or legal content, with some words like "et", "in", "de", and "per" being recognizable. The page is numbered "111" in the top right corner.
