

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Latin or Spanish. The text is densely packed and spans most of the page. It appears to be a legal document or a formal record, possibly a charter or a contract. The script is cursive and somewhat difficult to decipher due to its age and the way it is written. There are several lines of text, with some words appearing to be in larger, bolder letters, possibly indicating the start of a new section or a specific name. The text is written on aged, slightly stained paper. On the right margin, there is a small red stamp or mark, possibly a library or archival mark. The overall appearance is that of a historical manuscript.
