

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely Gothic, on a piece of aged parchment. The text is densely packed and covers most of the page. The parchment is significantly damaged, with large irregular holes and missing sections, particularly along the left and bottom edges. The ink is dark and the script is cursive with some decorative flourishes. The text appears to be a legal or administrative document, possibly a deed or a contract, given the formal nature of the script and the use of some recognizable words like 'venerabilis' and 'nobis'. The document is oriented vertically on the page.
