

Handwritten text in a medieval script, likely a legal or administrative document. The text is dense and covers most of the page, with some large initials and decorative flourishes. The script is a cursive Gothic hand, characteristic of the late 14th or early 15th century. The document appears to be a record of a transaction or a set of regulations, given the formal nature of the language and the presence of what might be signatures or official stamps at the bottom. The paper is aged and shows signs of wear, including some staining and a small hole near the center.
