

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a letter or document. The text is written on aged, yellowed paper and is mostly illegible due to fading and bleed-through from the reverse side. Some words are partially visible, such as "L'abbé" and "Monsieur".

Handwritten signatures and names in cursive script. The most prominent signature is "Monsieur de la Roche" written in a large, decorative hand. Other names and words are scattered below it, including "Monsieur de la Roche" and "Monsieur de la Roche".

Extremely faint handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The script is illegible due to the low contrast and fading.
