

Faint, mostly illegible handwritten text in Spanish, covering the majority of the page. The text appears to be a formal document or letter, possibly related to a university or official institution, given the presence of the seals.

