

The first part of the manuscript is a dense block of text, heavily obscured by dark ink scribbles and corrections. The handwriting is a cursive script, likely from the 16th or 17th century. The text is written in a single column, filling most of the page's width.

In the lower half of the page, there is a section that appears to be a list or a series of entries, possibly a table of contents or a list of names. The entries are written in a similar cursive hand but are less obscured by ink. Some legible fragments include:

- Item 1: ...
- Item 2: ...
- Item 3: ...
- Item 4: ...
- Item 5: ...
- Item 6: ...
- Item 7: ...
- Item 8: ...
- Item 9: ...
- Item 10: ...

The bottom of the page contains a few more lines of text, including what looks like a signature or a date, though it is difficult to decipher due to the ink and the style of the handwriting.
