Handwritten text in a cursive script, possibly a list or account. The text is dense and difficult to decipher due to the cursive style and some fading. It appears to be organized into several lines, possibly representing different entries or items.

Handwritten text in a cursive script, continuing from the first block. It contains several lines of text, some of which are underlined or have other markings. The script is consistent with the first block, suggesting it is part of the same document.

Handwritten notes or marginalia on the left side of the page, written in a smaller, more compact cursive script. It appears to be a separate entry or a correction related to the main text.
