SELLO QUINTO, DIEZ Y SEIS CIENTOS Y OCHENTA Y
DOS MIL Y SEISCIENTOS Y OCHENTA Y
DOS:

[The main body of the document is written in a highly decorative, cursive script. The text is largely illegible due to the extreme stylization and overlapping of the letters. It appears to be a formal legal or administrative document, possibly a decree or a set of instructions, given the context of the seal and the date. The script is characteristic of the 'cancillería' style of the 17th century.]
