[A specific line of text, possibly a signature or a heading, written in a more formal or distinct cursive hand than the rest of the page. It appears to be a name followed by a title or a date, though the details are difficult to discern due to the ink quality and fading.]
