

~~Handwritten text, possibly a title or introductory paragraph, which has been heavily crossed out with diagonal lines.~~

For the... of...
Handwritten text in a cursive script, appearing to be a formal address or a section of a letter.

Handwritten text, continuing the narrative or formal address. The script is dense and characteristic of the late 15th or early 16th century.

Handwritten text, likely the concluding part of a letter or a section of a manuscript. The text is written in a consistent cursive hand.