

Handwritten text in a dense cursive script, likely a legal document or account. The text is written in black ink on aged, yellowed paper. It begins with several lines of text that are partially obscured by a large, dark, irregular ink blot or stain. Below this, the text continues in a similar cursive hand, with some words appearing to be in a different script or dialect. The overall appearance is that of an old, handwritten manuscript or legal record.

Aquila Titulus V

Handwritten text in a dense cursive script, continuing from the previous section. The text is written in black ink on aged, yellowed paper. It begins with several lines of text that are partially obscured by a large, dark, irregular ink blot or stain. Below this, the text continues in a similar cursive hand, with some words appearing to be in a different script or dialect. The overall appearance is that of an old, handwritten manuscript or legal record.

