

my presence at the residence of the Episcopus Clementis in the city of Rome on the 15th day of the month of August 1585.

The first thing I saw when I entered the city of Rome was the great church of St. Peter's the Pope's palace and the other buildings of the city. I was very much surprised to see the city so well built and so full of people.
I saw many beautiful churches and palaces. I was very much pleased to see the city so well governed and so full of people. I saw many beautiful churches and palaces. I was very much pleased to see
the city so well governed and so full of people.

[Large handwritten flourish on the left margin]

The second thing I saw when I entered the city of Rome was the great church of St. Peter's
the Pope's palace and the other buildings of the city. I was very much surprised to see the
city so well built and so full of people.

The third thing I saw when I entered the city of Rome was the great church of St. Peter's
the Pope's palace and the other buildings of the city. I was very much surprised to see the
city so well built and so full of people.

The fourth thing I saw when I entered the city of Rome was the great church of St. Peter's
the Pope's palace and the other buildings of the city. I was very much surprised to see the
city so well built and so full of people.

The fifth thing I saw when I entered the city of Rome was the great church of St. Peter's
the Pope's palace and the other buildings of the city. I was very much surprised to see the
city so well built and so full of people.

