

Handwritten text on a piece of aged, yellowed paper, likely a book cover or endpaper. The text is written in a dark ink and is arranged in a vertical column, reading from top to bottom: "M. S. 1011". The paper is heavily worn, with significant staining and fraying at the edges.

