

Handwritten text in a narrow column, possibly bleed-through from the reverse side. The text is mostly illegible due to fading and the narrowness of the column. Some words are difficult to discern but appear to be in a historical or legal context.

For the

Handwritten signature or initials in the bottom left corner, possibly "A. W."

