

This image shows a single sheet of paper that has been severely damaged by heavy scribbling. The original text is completely obscured, appearing only as faint, illegible smudges and ghost-like outlines. The paper has a light beige or cream color.

the first time I have seen it. It is a very handsome specimen. The wings are brownish black with a few white spots.
The body is yellow with black stripes.
It is a very large fly.

