

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a medieval manuscript, covering the top portion of the page.

Incipit

scapale deare
piza rison
follo. 97

Main body of handwritten text, showing significant damage and a large white tear in the center.

Vertical column of handwritten text on the left side of the page, partially obscured by the main text and damage.

Bottom portion of handwritten text, including several lines that appear to be a signature or a specific section header.

