

Handwritten text, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page. The text is mirrored and difficult to decipher but appears to contain several lines of prose.

Handwritten notes on the right margin, possibly a list or a set of instructions, written in a cursive hand.

Large handwritten signatures and names at the bottom of the page, including what appears to be 'J. B. ...' and other names in a cursive script.

