

Handwritten text in a cursive script, likely a historical record or legal document. The text is densely packed and spans most of the page. It appears to be a list or a series of entries, possibly related to land or property, given the use of words like 'terras' and 'dominios'. The script is very fluid and characteristic of the late 15th or early 16th century.

Handwritten annotations in the left margin, possibly identifying specific entries or providing a summary. The text is written in a similar cursive hand as the main body.
